Mrs. Ann Wallace died Wednesday afternoon, after a short painful illness, of abdominal tumor. Her son Campbell arrived from Missouri, but Allen's whereabouts could not be found.

Mike Bowden arrived here Tuesday, to visit Pat in his serious illness. Pat, however, is now out of all danger. No clue has so far been found as to who assaulted him; but as he had sold his wheat, it is supposed that robbery was the intention. Luckily, he had no money with him at the time.

IOWA LETTER.

MARSHALLTOWN, IOWA,
 August 27th, 1882.
 Ed. BOURBON NEWS,
 Dear Sir:

Thinking perhaps a letter from this state might be of interest to a few of your many readers, I take the liberty to forward you a short communication.

Our city is situated in the heart of a very rich and beautiful farming country, near the center of the state, and is supplied with water from the Iowa river by the Marshalltown water works. It contains between 9 and 10 thousand inhabitants and is one of the most business and enterprising little cities in the State. We have two rail roads: the Chicago & North Western and the Iowa Central crossing at this place, making easy access to all four points of the compass. We also have a new railroad graded to within a few miles of the city. This road is to run diagonal through the state and having its terminus at McGregor and Nebraska city. This, when complete, will give us three main lines or six branches extending in different directions from here.

Our manufactures here are very extensive for a city of this size. Some of the most important are the Ketchum Wagon Works, giving employment to a great many laboring men and turning out five thousand wagons a year. Another factory of vast importance is the Iowa barbed wire factory, employing between 75 and 100 men and running night and day. Last, but not least, we will speak of the Marshall Sugar Refining company or Glucose Works, for the manufacture of sugar and syrup out of corn. They employ about 200 men, and have a capacity for consuming three thousand bushels of corn daily, and they are now extending their works with the intention of doubling that amount. We have other manufactures of less importance, of those we will name Furniture and Carriage Factories, three machine shops and foundries; also the Iowa Central R. R. has its headquarters at this place. Common Laborers are in demand at all times and get from $1.25 to $1.75 per day. Men with trades, such as machinists, carpenters, brick layers and painters get from 2 to 4 dollars a day.

The prohibition law has done nothing for this town yet, as the saloons still continue to sell, and of this kind of property, I am sorry to say, we have a vast amount, and besides the saloons, we have 4 breweries and two bottling houses. The farmers here have just finished harvesting. The oats are very heavy; wheat and corn crops in this county will be very light, and also over a great portion of the State.

I am Very Respectfully,
 A SUBSCRIBER.

Fine Bourbon Farm
 AT PRIVATE SALE.

I wish to sell privately my farm of 250 acres, lying one mile south-east of North Middletown, Bourbon county, on the turnpike leading to Mt. Sterling.

The farm is in a high state of cultivation, well timbered, well watered and well fenced—nearly all of the outer line being stone.

The improvements are first-class, and are comparatively new. The dwelling is a two-story brick, with ten rooms. All of the out-buildings are good and convenient. The barn has a capacity of housing ten acres of tobacco.

The place is located convenient to good schools and churches, and is in as fine neighborhood as there is in the bluegrass region.

For further information, address, or call on me at the premises.

I mean business.

 Also, my father wishes to sell 110 acres of fine unimproved land lying near my farm. It has plenty of timber, and is in a high state of cultivation, and all is in grass but a small portion.

COL. L. T. FOSTER.

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO, MAY 10th, 1880.
 B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—I had a very valuable Hambletonian colt which I prized very highly; he had a large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other, which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons who failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and got our druggists here to send for it; they ordered three bottles, I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial, and used according to directions and the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame, and the lumps had disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colts limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles who are now using it. Very Respectfully,
 L. T. FOSTER.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.
 ON HUMAN FLESH.

Patten's Mills, N. Y., Feb. 21st, 1878.
 B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—The particular case on which I used your Kendall's Spavin Cure was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months standing. I had tried many things but in vain. Your spavin cure put the foot to the ground again, and for the first time since hurt in a natural position. For a family liniment it excels anything we ever used.

Yours truly,
 Rev. M. P. Bell,
 Pastor of M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

 HIS DISEASES.
 A TREATISE

Giving an index of diseases and the symptoms; cause and treatment of each, a table giving all the principal drugs used for the horse, with the ordinary dose, effects and antidote when a poison; a table with an engraving of the horse's teeth at different ages, with rules for telling the age of the horse; a valuable collection of receipts and much valuable information.

BY B. J. KENDALL, M. D.

65 ENGRAVINGS 65

This book, during the short time since its original publication, has been recognized as one of the most reliable authorities on anything pertaining to the horse's condition or treatment. The best evidence of its popularity is the immense sale which it has met with, over 650,000 have been published and sold in all parts of the northern states. Hundreds of testimonials to the efficacy of the treatment advised can be shown, and in many cases a reference to this book and prompt following of its advice has saved the lives of valuable animals. It is plain and simple in its terms, and can be understood by anybody. A distinguished veterinary surgeon, who possesses a library comprising the most costly books on the horse, recently said that he would part with almost any of them rather than with this treatise, which comprises so much.
